Matthew Bell is an audiologist and Clinical Associate Professor at Arizona State University. He has 19 years of experience working in a variety of audiology clinical settings, including private practice clinics, ear, nose, and throat (ENT) clinics, and university speech and hearing clinics, with a focus in diagnostic hearing evaluations, amplification with hearing aids, tinnitus evaluation and management, hearing conservation, and music audiology.

Matthew has also been teaching audiology to undergraduate and graduate students for about 12 years. Matthew earned a Doctor of Audiology from the University of Washington, and a Bachelor of Music from Utah State University. Matthew is a member of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) and the American Academy of Audiology, and he also earned specialty certification in tinnitus management (CH-TM) and audiology precepting (CH-AP) through the American Board of Audiology.

Our room is fully accessible as the room is amplified, has a hearing loop which connects to your t-coil in your hearing aid or cochlear implant and is fully captioned.

Our meeting format features a casual "Brown Bag" session at 12:00 pm. We will be covering different smart phone technologies to help you at that time. Plan on bringing your lunch and enjoy an informative afternoon. See you there!
